

SECURITY BREACHES

ARE RISING

HAD A SECURITY BREACH.

● Up from 81% a year ago ● Up from 60% a year ago

COST OF BREACHES

£1.46m - £3.15m is the average cost to a large organisation
£75k - £311k is the average cost to a small business of its worst security breach of the year

● Up from £600k - £1.1m a year ago ● Up from £65k - £115k a year ago

59% of respondents expect there will be more security incidents in the next year than last.

● Number of respondents: 664

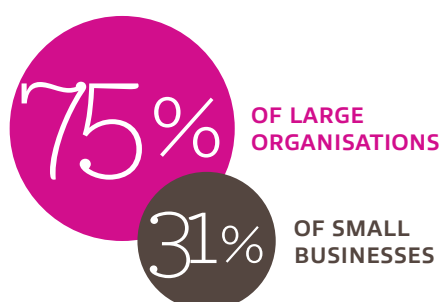

ATTACKS WILL COME

were attacked by an unauthorised outsider in the last year.

● Up from 55% a year ago ● Slightly up from 33% a year ago

THE HUMAN FACTOR

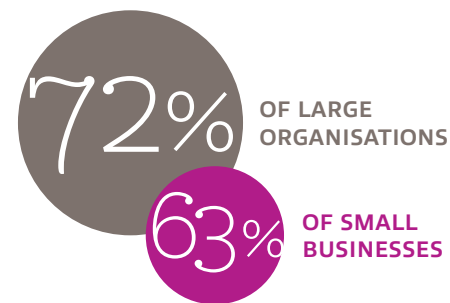

suffered staff related security breaches in the last year.

● Up from 58% a year ago ● Up from 22% a year ago

50% of the worst breaches in the year were caused by inadvertent human error.

UNDERSTANDING COMMUNICATION AND EFFECTIVE SECURITY AWARENESS

provide ongoing security awareness training to their staff.

● Up from 68% a year ago ● Up from 54% a year ago

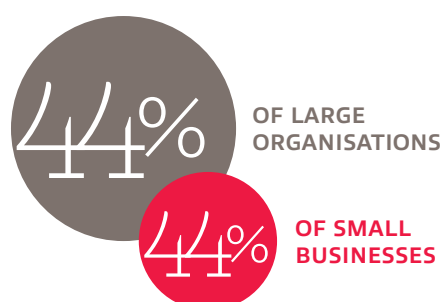

14% of respondents have never briefed their board on security risks.

72% of companies where the security policy was poorly understood had staff related breaches.

82% of respondents report that their senior management place a high or very high priority to security.

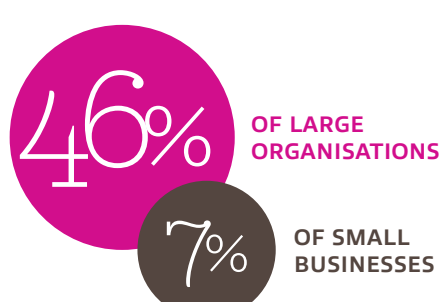

● Up from 79% a year ago

INFORMATION SECURITY EXPENDITURE

increased information security spend in the last year.

● Down from 53% a year ago ● Up from 27% a year ago

expect information security spend to increase in the next year.

● Down from 51% a year ago ● Down from 42% a year ago

BUSINESSES NEED TO MANAGE THE RISKS ASSOCIATED WITH NEW TECHNOLOGY

had a security or data breach in the year involving smartphones or tablets.

● Up from 7% a year ago